LOOK FOR A BIG YEAR IN BUILDING

Costly Factory and Commercial Structures Now Under Consideration.

NEEDED FOR GROWING TRADE.

Coffin Company Plans Eight Story Addition to Plant and Kinloch Telephone Corporation Will Expend $200,000.

Plans for new factory and commercial bulldings are receiving the attention of architects just now, and everything points to a greater amount of this class of ilding for the coming season than in several years.

usiness is picking up in our line," a prominent architect said yesterday, "and I believe that the new year will find plans matured for the erection of several handome commercial buildings in the downtown district. A number of the large manufacturing firms that have for some-time feet the necessity of increased space to landle a fast growing business are con-templating substantial improvements, and the work from this source will. I think, add inaterially to the increase in building next year."

next year."
F. D. Gardner, president of the St. Louis F. D. Gardner, president of the St. Louis Coffin Company, announced yesterday the intention of that firm to erect at an early date an eight-story building to their factories at Eighteenth street and Chouteni avenue. The new building will be on ground immediately west of the present building, and will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of hearses. The plant will have a capacity of 409 hearses per year, and will give employment to about 30 men.

Among other factory buildings for which plans have been made is an eight-story structure for the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company at the northeast corner of Twenty-first and Locust streets, and buildings for the Crunden-Martin Woodenware Company at Second and Gratiot streets. The Building Committee of the Kinloch Telephone Company, of which August Busch is chairman, has ordered the buildings at the northwest corner of Tenth and Locust streets vacated at once and wrecked to make way for their new building there.

A modern fire-proof structure of eight stories will be built at a cost of about $399,000. The telephone company will occupy the four upper floors of the building and negotiations are now under way to lease the rem uning space to various firms. The building will be ready within a year.

RETAIL DISTRICT

The Commonwealth Trust Company has made a lease to the W. Grayson Broker-age Company, of No. 415 Olive street, a part of the old Germania Bank location. The three-story retail business building. No. 705 North Broadway, has been leased by the Mercantile Trust Company for the account of Fanny Todd Clark to Heller & Livingstone, retail clothiers.

NEW BANK BUILDING.

Proposed structure for the People's United States Bank of St. Louis, at University Heights.

United States Bank of St. Louis, a recently incorporated corporation of local bankers and business men, to conduct a national mail-order banking business, have just been completed by Herbert C. Chivers, the architect.

The proposed structure will be located at

Plans for the building of the People's together by correspondence, it will lack beavy bronze doors to the vault below the breast and between the two outstretched the customary bank fixtures, but, on the other hand, the entire interior will be one large room, 34 feet in height, with the floor space covered with desks, except for the wide-open passages to the three entrances. Accommodations will be arranged for 200 The most notable features of the interior vill be the massive Egyptian

The proposed structure will be located at University Heights, west of the city limits, and will cost in the neighborhood of a half million dollars. The building will be 100x 507 feet in size, and set on a high terrace, occupying an entire square of ground, with approaches from three sides.

The design is purely Egyptian, a style, which, by reason of its great antiquity and massive construction, is particularly adapted for such a building, where a sense of great security in its architecture is essential. In addition to the imposing appearance, several new feaures of interior arrangement are intended for making the structure one of the most modern of its kind in the country.

The floor of this banking-room is laid off in elaborate tile work, and in the center of the building, opposite the Sphinx, is an elaborate marble stairs leading to the basement story, in which are located the safe-deposit vaults. This open space in the center of the building between the columns is 59x150 feet in size, and the celling space above is paneled off diagonally in art-glass panels, shedding an abundance of light of a greenish-blue cast, giving the best possible light for those below.

The arrangements for light and ventilation form a unique feature of the proposed building. The light will be all taken from the north, through hidden sawtooth skylights, covering an area 50x150 feet. The heat will not penetrate the building in the summer, architects claim, for the reason that the walls will be made six feet thick at the grade line and hollow, forming dead-air chambers, an insulation against either heat or cold. The roof will be constructed of hollow concrete with hollow air spaces.

Work will be started on the new building early next spring. The greater part of the year will be required to complete the structure for occupancy.

A hornet alighted upon the speaker and created such an impression that she fled screaming from the platform. An instant later a swarm of hornets, revived by the heat from the radiator, poured out of the "abandoned" nest. The infuriated insects, true to Mrs. Stannard's description of them, "created an impression" upon every student of natural history present. There was a mad rush for the door, and a moment later the meeting of the Device Id. ment later the meeting of the Dexier Lit-erary and Psychic Research Society of Germantown had terminated.

MRS. ANNA PLUNKETT. Virginia, III., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Anna Piunkett, wife of John W. Piunkett, died to-day at Ash-land. She was 27 years old.

Newbro's Herpicide

THE LADIES CBJECT to a gummy and sticky hair dressing or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro s Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become en-thusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY must have pretty hair. The features may be quite plain or even homely, yet if the head is crowned with an abundance of beautiful hair, attractiveness will not be lacking. The Poet says: "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." Herpicide gives the hair a charming distinctiveness that is characteristic of no other hair dressing. DISEASED HAIR A MISFORTUNE. Unsightly or diseased hair is a misfortune in more ways than o There is the actual injury to the hair follicles, and the consequent loss or thinning of the hair; this may cause diseases that sometimes follow a removal or thinning of nature's protect tion to the head. A diseased condi-tion of the hair affects a woman's disposition to a marked degree.

If the hair is dull, brittle and lifeless, owing to the presence of a microbic growth, the effect is to dampen one's spirits and cause a loss of interest in personal appearance. The use of Newbro's Herpicide overcomes the ravages of the dandruff microbe, after which the pature head of the dandruff microbe. the natural beauty and abundance of the hair will return as nature intended. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide. Gentlemen will find Newbro's Herpicide in use at all important barber shops.
